

Mission Letter #4

One more challenge!

Wow! Headquarters is 😊 with all your progress on the mission! You have done a great job learning about habits of character. Your ideas about tools and your ideas about habits of character will BOTH be needed to create YOUR magnificent thing for the classroom.

Don't be 😞, you have just one more challenge to complete. The people at headquarters know you are 🤔 from all of your work with The Most Magnificent Thing, but they are 😞 that you may not be able to find habits of character in other places. Your last challenge is to take everything you learned about the habits of character and use it while you look and listen to a new book. Headquarters hopes you paid attention during The Most Magnificent Thing because now you need to show how much you learned by finding evidence in the new book!

Headquarters is 😞 when they don't hear from you, so go get started!

“Learning Target” Song

Sung to the tune of “Row, Row, Row Your Boat”

Learn, think, grow your mind.
Do your best each day.
Learning targets tell you how.
Let's begin, hooray!
